PATRICK NOT PLEASED

Will Continue His Efforts to Be a Free Man.

CASE IS WONDERFUL

Since His Conviction, on March 27, 1902, the Defendant Has Made a Constant Effort to Escape the Death Chair.

Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 21.—A. T. Patrick says he is not satisfied with the commutation, and will at once begin his fight for freedom. A writ of habeas corpus will be applied for, it is said, in the United States court, making Warden Johnson the defendant.

The first news of the action of Gov. Higgins was taken to the prisoner's cell in the death house in Sing Sing prison by his wife. Mrs. Patrick left New York immediately on receipt of the news from Albany, and upon her arrival she was permitted to go at once to her husband's cell. Patrick seemed not at all surprised to learn that the governor had intervened to save his life.

The case of Albert T. Patrick is, in many respects, unparalleled. It is doubtful if ever before a convicted man has played so large a part in the conduct of his own case, even turning his narrow quarters in the "death cell" of a state prison practically into a law office. Rice died Sept. 23, 1900. Patrick and Jones were arrested Oct. 4. Jones at first declared that Patrick himself had chloroformed Rice, but in other confessions, which varied materially, he said he killed his master at Patrick's instigation. The statement was the principal evidence to sustain the murder charge against Patrick. Jones was never tried, either as a principal or as an accomplice. He was released, and is said to be living in Texas.

Patrick was convicted March 27, 1902, and sentenced to death. Since then his fight has been continuous. In every court in the state open to him he has made his appeal, but always in vain. Patrick's brother-in-law John T. Milliken, of St. Louis is said to have financed his battle at great cost. It is known that Patrick intends to continue his efforts to establish his innocence.

MUCH WHISKY SHIPPED.

Frisco Depot at Arthur City Is Well Filled With Packages.

Paris, Tex., Dec. 21.—The Frisco depot at Arthur City has been crowded for several days with C. O. D. whisky packages, most of which is shipped from points outside the state, and nine-tenths of it is consigned to persons living in Indian Territory. In order to make room for it shelving had to be put in the freight office. The depot is full, and liquor houses were wired not to ship any more to it, as there was no room. Sixty packages addressed to Arthur City were refused on account of there being no room to store it. Constable John Payne has sworn in two or three extra deputies to preserve order during Christmas.

COWARDLY CRIME.

Thugs Beat an Aged Man and Leave Him For Dead.

Amarillo, Tex., Dec. 21.—Beaten, after he had begged for his life, and later left for dead, William Kennedy, sixty-four years of age, staggered to a nearby roundhouse for help at 2 o'clock Thursday morning. He is a steel worker on the Santa Fe extension, and says he came to Amarillo with a strange man who lured him into a deserted place. Officers are working on the case.

Pupils of Mrs. A. M. Rhodes' Kindergarten enjoyed a visit from Santa Claus yesterday and received some pretty gifts. Appropriate exercises were also held in various rooms of the public schools.

The marriage of Mr. Will Conlee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Conlee of this city, and Miss Ozelle Wiley, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Wiley of Thompson Creek, is announced to take place at the home of the bride's parents Sunday evening.

W. H. Shelby of Reliance was in the city yesterday and reported to the Eagle an unusual and tragic accident which happened in that community Friday. A negro living on John Merka's place undermined a chimney for the purpose of tearing it down and it fell prematurely, crushing the negro to death.

Messrs. W. L. Baker and V. D. McLanahan of Saratoga, Texas, have opened a pool and billiard parlor in the Smith building, up-stairs over the City National bank. The large room heretofore used as a cotton sample room has been refitted and fixed up in nice shape, and entirely new tables and equipment installed. Mr. Baker is here in charge and Mr. McLanahan will arrive shortly. They invite the patronage of the public in an ad elsewhere in the Eagle.

J. T. Maloney on yesterday purchased from Geo. D. Tucker the Tucker Hotel property, one block west of Wagner & Brandon's; consideration $3,500.00. The Eagle learns that Mr. Tucker has no intention of leaving Bryan, but merely desires to retire from the hotel business. He will purchase property and build a nice home. Mr. Maloney will rent the property. Mr. Maloney also purchased from L. A. Plasek the two story building of the Hortman property adjoining the Tucker Hotel property and having a twenty foot front; consideration, $1500.00. The building is now occupied by a meat market. Mr. Plasek retains the ownership of his blacksmith shop property adjoining. Both of these deals were consummated through the real estate agency of Monroe Edge.

Christmas at Yum

ON the Island of Yum, where the weather is fair
And the children are always at play,
They never have neat little stockings to wear,
So they run about barefoot all day.
And when it is Christmas and Santa Claus comes
He almost goes out of his mind
As he searches in vain for some stockings to fill
When there aren't any stockings to find.

ON the Island of Yum, by the tropical sea,
Where people live right out of doors,
They sleep in the shade of the coconut tree
And cook on the sand covered shores.
But when it is Christmas and Santa appears He's sorry he made them a call,
For how can he slide down the chimneys, my dears,
When there aren't any chimneys at all?

POPCORN AND CANDLES HUNG TO A PALM.

ON the Island of Yum there are thousands of trees,
The mango and banyan and date,
So the children of Yum eat the fruit that they please
And enjoy it, it's needless to state.
But when poor old Santa comes every year
He struggles in vain to keep calm,
For popcorn and candles look awfully queer
When hung to a coconut palm.

If I on the Island of Yum were to live,
The children I'd merrily teach;
I'd build 'em all chimneys, and then I would give
A nice pair of stockings to each.
And I'd send out a shipload of Christmas trees, too,
Addressed to the children by name,
And then you would see what a time there would be When Christmas and Santa Claus came.

—Wallace Irwin in New York Globe.

Talleyrand as Cook.
Be a cook—some sort of cook, even a ship's cook. Remember Talleyrand. The British authorities gave him twenty-four hours' notice to quit London, and he embarked on a Danish vessel for America. The vessel was held up at sea by an English frigate. A searching party was sent on board. Talleyrand pleaded with the captain not to declare him, as he had no liking for the Tower of London. "I will pass you off as the ship's cook," said the officer. "There is nothing else." After some wry faces the prince consented and with a very ill grace assumed the cotton cap, kitchen apron, carving knife and other appendages in keeping with his new office. When the English officer demanded if there were any French passengers on board the captain replied, "Yes, one poor devil of a limping French cook." Being immediately called up for inspection, Talleyrand made his appearance, saucepan in hand and with such a piteous countenance that the Englishman laughed heartily and consented not to make a captive of him.—New York Press.

THE STORY OF A WOMAN'S LIFE.

Only a baby with fluttering velvety hands, rose-petal lips and dream-kissed eyes—love's evangel, a dainty, slumbering little queen whose every wish is anticipated and about whose throne the brightest and best of the real is gathered. Sleeping or waking, her rule is absolute, and love and loyalty are the watchwords of her subject—only a baby loved and caressed.

Only a little maid with wind-tossed curls, sun-browned cheeks, eyes that sparkle with delight or darken with the sorrow and mysteries of childhood—a little fledgling of the home, whose cheering song and winsome ways lighten the care, about whose future are woven such glorified dreams as rob labor of weariness and transform sacrifices into privileges. Only a little maid with wonderful eyes wide open to the dawn.

Only a bride, white-robed and beautiful, going away from a love that is tried and true, to gladden another home; to begin the new untried life, the life of fond hopes and glorified dreams. A hush, a few irrevocable words and the future whose richest tints will be mingled gun.

Only a wife, loved—an uncrowned native dominion, the good character shines brightest the clouds of adversity hang lo- est. Comforter whose hand with equal tenderness have smoothed from the brow of manhood its lines of care and dried from the cheek of childhood its tears—only a wife, a womanly sovereign in the realm of home.

Only a mother, faded and old—the once luxuriant hair, is fast whitening and thin. The fullness and bloom of youth have given place to the wrinkles and "pale" of age—the hands that once so deftly did service for others lack their accustomed skill. The feet that sped quickly on errands of love move with the hesitancy of years—but the eyes, the beautiful windows of the soul, beam with the light, and like "The King's Daughter," she is all glorious within. Only a darling old mother with folded hands and face turned to sunset skies, waiting the sound of the trumpet call, waiting to go from Labor to Rest, waiting to cross over to the Home of the Blest.—Richmond Missourian.

CITY ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The Eagle is authorized to announce FRANK CLARKE
as a candidate for re-election to the office of City Secretary, at the ensuing election, subject to the action of the Democratic party of the City of Bryan.

Roosevelt has handed the senate a bunch of bristling English on the subject of the negro soldier outrages at Brownsville that leaves those who have criticised his course in discharging the troops hanging on the outer rim of the earth by their eyebrows. The full text of the President's statement was published in the Eagle Thursday morning.

The unloaded gun and the kerosene can will now stand back and give the cannon cracker a chance.

A Kansas woman is suing for a divorce at the age of 105. She has evidently been a long time finding the old man out.

Many a dollar is blown in for foolishness during the holidays which should be used for paying up just debts and starting the new year with a clean score.

The newspapers are talking about a thousand Chicago women who propose to come to Texas and start an Adamless Eden. Clever.
Beats a matrimonial agency for an advertising scheme.

By long and strenuous efforts, Albert T. Patrick, formerly of Navasota, and convicted of the murder of Millionaire Rice in New York, has secured a commutation of his sentence of death in the electric chair to life imprisonment.

The Pullman Car Company
threatens to withdraw its cars from Texas if the railroad commission attempts to interfere with the prices charged. Well let them take their old cars out of the state.
A very small per cent of the people of Texas use them any way. They are mostly for the accommodation of through passengers any way.
But this is all a bluff. The Pullman Company will run cars through Texas as long as there is any money in it to them. When any concern gets too big for a state government to regulate, it had better go.—Palestine Herald.

C. R. L. Jones, son of Mrs. Frank Jones, of the Harvey community, and Miss Callie Barnett were united in marriage by Rev. J. M. Bullock of Bryan. Both young people are popular and belong to well known and highly esteemed Brazos county families. Many friends unite in wishing them abundant happiness and prosperity.

WORK OF THE CLUBS.

President Law on the Agricultural and Mechanical College Movement.

Bryan, Texas, Dec. 20.—Mr. F. Law of this city, president of the Alumni Association of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, in speaking of the work of the association, made the following statement: The Agricultural and Mechanical College has about 550 graduates and this number is being increased at present about fifty every year. The institution is comparatively young, the records of her graduates like a remarkably fine showing. In nearly every case these men are occupying positions of high standing and responsibility.

At the last Alumni meeting in which it was decided to organize Agricultural and Mechanical College Clubs in such cities and towns where a sufficient number of the students are residing. The executive committee was charged with the execution of this plan, and this committee has made a ruling that is not necessary for one to be a graduate of the college to be eligible for membership in these clubs.

They need only be ex-students. On this basis the first club was organized a few days ago at College and is known as the Brazos County A. and M. College Club. The membership is about fifty and is composed of Bryan and Campus residents.

During the next two weeks plans have been made to organize clubs at Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, Austin, Dallas, Waco, Palestine and Beaumont. This will be the beginning, as other towns will be organized as soon as conditions warrant. It is believed these clubs will serve some good purposes.

1. They will be largely social in nature and will bring the old students in any locality in close sympathy and touch with each other.

2. These clubs can do efficient work in directing the parents of young men to the Agricultural and Mechanical College as a proper place for the education of their sons.

3. While in no sense a political organization, it will be entirely proper and indeed praiseworthy for each of these clubs to lend its aid in dissemination of information among the people of Texas in regard to the work and needs of the institution.

4. Organization in the manner indicated will prove of value to the young men just out of college in that help will be given in putting them in such positions as they are qualified to hold.

5. It will be possible for the college to keep in touch with the old boys through the medium of these clubs in a way that has heretofore been impossible. Friendly rivalry will be excited as to which city can have the largest attendance at the college commencements when a whole day is given in the program to the Alumni. Special effort will be made between now and June to have several hundred of the ex-students at the annual business meeting and banquet. Among the old boys are men who are now congressman, judges, bankers, lawyers, merchants, farmers, and in fact every respected vocation is represented. We want to get a great company of them back at college every June, and the enthusiasm and zeal that will be awakened will count big for the institution.

The plan of organization is not new. All of the older colleges and universities have tried it successfully. We propose to have our association count for something. It should be a real tangible asset in promoting the welfare of the college. Every young man who accepts the advantages offered by the state by attending the college, should feel it his duty and privilege to repay the state. This he can do in no more patriotic manner than by exerting all his powers in behalf of his alma mater to the end that she may attain to the full measure of usefulness in the education of thousands of Texas' sons.

Michigan and Wisconsin each have over 2,000 students at their Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges. Kansas and Iowa are not far behind. Texas, without a peer in her resources and possibilities, should have 3,000; and when her citizens become better acquainted with the work and worth of her great technical institution, they will make it possible for her to have them.—Galveston News.

A City of the Past.

Rimini is full of associations with thrilling people of the past. It was here that Caesar crossed the Rubicon. We crossed ourselves on the very bridge his feet had touched. It was here, too, that St. Anthony came to preach and, finding no people who would give heed to him, turned in despair and preached to the fishes, who raised their heads out of the water to listen to him. There is a chapel which marks the spot where he stood by the water. In Rimini lived Paolo and Francesca, the tragedy of whose love every one knows.—Travel Magazine.

The Grand Canyon.

Vast as the bed of a vanished ocean, deep as Mount Washington risen from its apex to its base, the grandest canyon in the world lay glittering below in the sunlight like a submerged continent. At my very feet, so near that I could have leaped at once into eternity, the earth was cleft to a depth of over 6,000 feet—not by a narrow gorge, but by a gulf within whose cavernous immensity Niagara would be indiscernible and whole cities could be tossed like pebbles.—E. W. G. Weston in The Wide World Magazine.

THE COUNTRY HOUSE.

A Room Apart That Should Be Known as the "Office."

The most privately conducted home communicates with increasing frequency with the world outside. The coal man, the ice man, the automobile repair shop must be upbraided or cajoled. Reports must be reviewed, accounts kept, bills examined and the senders occasionally treated with a check. From a room removed from the rest of the house one must speak with the railway station, settle with the expressman or deliberate with the chauffeur or coachman, for none of these things should disturb the tranquillity of the home or the equanimity of guests. If the house is to minister to all the activities of a home it is high time that space be devoted to this mechanism of living. For want of a better term a room devoted to such a purpose may be called the "office" of the house. Here the telephone stands on a table that bears also the miscellaneous utensils and printed matter that are always wanted in a house when they cannot be found. Here are cookbooks, gardening books, dictionaries, time tables, while a few old plates, a cast or two, bits of Dresden, water colors and a few cherished photographs relieve an otherwise humdrum collection of necessities. Here arriving parcels are placed and the daily mail opened. Mysterious cupboards there are and drawers with locks that work.—Indoors and Out.

A CONTRAST.

French and English Women as They Cross a Muddy Street.

See a Parisienne cross a muddy street. She advances tiptoe to the edge of the pavement, poises like a bird ready for a flight, deftly raises her dress more than enough to show her embroidered skirt, the dainty hose and elegant bottines, and without more delay she trips across, toe and heel barely touching and the mud refusing to cling to the fairy feet that hardly leave an impression on it. Landed on the other side, she gives her fine feathers a little shake into place and passes on with shoes that look as if just put on at that moment.

Watch an Englishwoman immediately afterward. She reaches the curbstone, comes to a dead standstill and stolidly contemplates the muddy road. Finally she selects a route. Then, very cautiously, she lifts her dress, making sure that the tops of her shoes are under cover; then, slowly advancing, she puts her right foot out. Plump it goes, the water oozing over it, and then splash, splash, splash, until the other side is reached, when, with soiled skirts and soaked shoes, she proceeds on her wet and muddy way.

Nothing could be more characteristic of their respective nationalities, and nothing could be more amusing than their mutual contempt for each other's ways.—Translated From the French For St. Louis Republic.

Men's Hats and Women's Veils.

"I see here that a woman writer wonders why a man always looks in his hat before he puts it on," said the reflective man as he looked up from his paper. "Here is what she says: 'When a man puts on his hat he most always looks inside it first. What he expects to see remains a mystery, but he looks for it, all the same.' That's easy. He looks in his hat to see if the knot holding the inside band together will be at the back of his head when he puts it on. Now, if she'll tell me why a woman always pulls down her veil and purses up her mouth before she steps out of doors we'll call it square."—New York Press.

Side Whiskers.

In her last novel, "The Dream and the Business," Mrs. Craigie, I regret to note, used the expression "side whiskers." The redundant "side" is to be found also in Meredith, Dickens, the greater Richardson, Bronte, Caine, Corelli, Sims and Shorter. As a matter of fact, unless otherwise stated, the least intelligent reader would take it for granted that the whiskers were worn on the side of the face, as indeed is the usual practice. The terms "lip whisker" (mustache) and "chin whisker" (beardette) are Americanisms.—Pall Mall Gazette.

ORDER GIVEN.

Bids Are to Be Opened and Announced Each Working Day.

Washington, Dec. 20.—With the approval of Secretary Hitchcock Commissioner Richards of the general land office has issued an order to the officials in charge of the general land office has issued an order to the officials in charge of the sale of the pasture and wood reserve lands in Oklahoma to open and announce bids for the land each working day between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m., and to omit announcing and recording the technical descriptions of the lands for which bids are made. The object of the order is to facilitate the occupation of the lands by the purchasers, and it is expected that it will advance the occupation of the lands by at least two weeks, and perhaps longer.

TIME EXTENDED.

Thirty Days More Given For Presentation of New Evidence.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Thirty days' extension of time has been granted by the department of commerce and labor to the Mexican, Villareal, who is being detained at El Paso on the charge that he is unlawfully in this country, to permit him to present new evidence to the department officials. Villareal is understood to be a political offender against Mexico, and is supposed to have sought refuge in this country to escape punishment. It is alleged that he was imprisoned in Mexico for a crime involving moral turpitude, but while Villareal admits the imprisonment, he says it was a penalty for a duel he fought, and maintains that it does not constitute "moral turpitude" in the sense of American law. The case has been pending many weeks, and may not be determined yet for five or six weeks.

PRO RATA DISTRIBUTION.

Company Wants Pennsylvania Road to Divide Up Its Coal Cars.

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—A new proceeding in the rebate discriminating suits against the Pennsylvania Railroad company has been instituted in the United States circuit court at this city by the Logan Coal company. It is in the form of a petition for a writ of alternate mandamus to compel the corporation to make a pro rata distribution of coal cars. This action adds another and entirely new mode of procedure to the many suits for unlawful discrimination pending in local and Federal courts. The petition charges that under an order issued by the Pennsylvania railroad in January last relative to distribution of coal cars the petitioners are unjustly discriminated against.

FOR ELEVEN CENTS.

Calvin Says His Organization Will Not Sell Cotton For Less.

Houston, Dec. 20.—President Calvin of the Farmers' Union stated that the organization had not sold 100 bales of cotton out of its warehouse here in thirty days, and will continue to hold for 11 cents. He says he is convinced the spot demand will eventually justify this price, and that farmers are in good position to hold. President Calvin also says if the present decline is due to overproduction he will canvass the state advocating diversification and farmers will demonstrate their power to control cotton prices by reducing acreage, as was done following the bumper crop of two years ago.

SAVAGE SOLDIERS.

Pillage Houses and Stores and Kill a Number of Persons.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Dec. 20.—According to reports received here the garrison of Loja (capital of the province of that name) mutinied because they had not been paid for sixty days. The troops abandoned their barracks after killing three of their officers, ran through the streets firing in all directions and pillaged a number of houses and stores, killing twenty-five persons.

Congress Adjourns.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Congress has adjourned until Jan. 3.

LIBERALS HIT HARD.

Most Serious Rebuff Yet Received by British Cabinet.

London, Dec. 20.—There will be no dissolution of parliament as the result of the action of the house of lords in defeating the government's educational bill, although the rejection of this main Liberal measure of the session is the most serious rebuff that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and the cabinet have yet suffered. It is not regarded as being sufficiently grave to necessitate an appeal to the country.

Whether at the present moment the government could successfully appeal to the nation on the educational bill is a question on which even many Liberals are in great doubt. The only imminent effect of the step taken by the upper house, therefore, will be to give an enormous impetus to radical agitation in favor of curbing the veto powers of the peers and furnish non-conformists with a new gun and ammunition in their fight for the disestablishment of the Church of England.

There is a widespread impression that a purely secular education bill will be introduced during the next session of parliament, while no doubt the cabinet during the recess will consider what means is possible to prevent the lords from nullifying the prolonged labors of the house of commons and debar their veto measures passed twice by the lower house.

It is the general view that politicians and peers by this action entered upon the constitutional struggle, embracing much more than the educational bill. The Liberals promise there will be no cessation of the fight until the constitutional issue is settled as to whether the Liberal party is to be forever checkmated by a "standing committee of Tory peers."

King Edward Thursday received the premier at Buckingham palace. It is understood his majesty wishes to be fully informed regarding the cabinet's views on the political situation as affected by the educational question.

WOOLEN MILL MERGER.

It Is to Include a Number of Southern Enterprises.

Nashville, Dec. 20.—A merger of leading woolen mills in the south, involving a capitalization of $1,250,000, has been effected. The combine will be known as the American Textile Woolen company. It will include the following concerns: Park Woolen mills, Rossville, Ga.; Louisville Woolen mills, Louisville, Ky.; Sweetwater Woolen mills, Sweetwater, Tenn.; Athens Woolen mills, Athens, Tenn.; Atlanta Woolen mills, Atlanta, Ga. The headquarters of the concern will be at Chattanooga.

JUST AS BAD.

Vatican So Declares About New Government Bill of France.

Rome, Dec. 20.—A semi-official note issued by the Vatican declares the text of the new French government bill amending church and state separation bill of 1905 is as bad as the former regulations, being maximum suppression with minimum appearance and aggravates the position of the church in everything without this being apparent to the general public.

BIDS INVITED.

Pennsylvania Railroad Will Have Five Thousand Box Cars Made.

Philadelphia, Dec. 20.—The purchasing agent of the Pennsylvania railroad has invited bids for the construction of 5,000 box cars. The contract is to be awarded within a few days. Their estimated cost is $6,000,000. With the placing of this order the company will have ordered within the last two years nearly 60,000 freight cars.

AT KANSAS CITY.

Interstate Commerce Commission Is Hearing Evidence at That Place.

Kansas City, Dec. 20.—The interstate commerce commission car shortage hearing, begun at St. Louis, was taken up here Thursday by Commissioner Prouty, aided by P. F. Farrell, attorney for the commission.

NO LIMIT.

Favorable Decision Is Rendered by the Supreme Court.

Austin, Dec. 20.—The supreme court Wednesday, in an opinion by Associate Justice Williams, rendered a decision holding that no limit could be placed on the removal of timber where it was sold forever in fee simple. It was the case of Lodgwick Lumber company vs. R. W. Taylor, from Harrison county, on certified questions from Dallas appellate court. Taylor bought a tract of land from which the lumber company removed the timber in 1904 by virtue of several assignments of the sale of the timber thereon executed in 1903, or ten years before the timber was removed.

Taylor claimed too much time had elapsed, and was sustained by district and appellate courts, the latter finally certifying these two questions: "Did the time of the timber not removed from the land within a reasonable time revert to the owner of the soil?" "Does the Lodgwick Lumber company owe Taylor for the value of the timber cut and removed, without his consent, after the expiration of a reasonable time from the making of the original contract of sale?" It is a new proposition in Texas.

Arranging Chrysanthemums.

In the arrangement of chrysanthemums the Japanese guard against seven faults. Their stems must not be of the same length, a single flower must not turn its back or present its full face, the flowers must not be hidden by leaves, or, should they be arranged in the way of steps, a full blown flower should never be placed at the base of the composition, and one odd one must not be allowed to fall between two others alike in color. Three flowers should not appear to form a triangle.

NEW REGULATIONS.

Agricultural Department Will Promulgate Them at Once.

Washington, Dec. 21.—Representative Smith of Texas called on Dr. Melvin, chief of the bureau of animal industry, department of agriculture, regarding the recent decision of the United States supreme court regarding national quarantine regulations as to cattle. The decision establishes the invalidity of Texas regulations, and it will be necessary for the department to issue new regulations. The new order will be restricted only to interstate movements, as movements of cattle wholly within the state can be controlled by state regulations and are beyond the jurisdiction of the national government. The department will issue new regulations immediately and no serious results are anticipated.

Mexico has raised more cotton this year than she can manufacture and is looking for an outlet for her surplus.

AND RIDDLED

Maryland Mob Takes Henry Davis From Jail and Swings Him.

CONFESSES HIS CRIME

Negro Informed Those Who Led Him to His Awful Fate That He Intended Doing the Deed Living or Dead.

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 21.—About sixty masked men took Henry Davis, alias Henry Chambers, a negro, who committed a felonious assault on Mrs. John Reid of Brownsville, five miles from here, last Friday, and who confessed his crime, from jail and lynched him. He was strung up and his body riddled with bullets. The lynching took place this morning.

The jail is situated in Calers street, in the western section of the city, and is quite isolated. The mob had no difficulty in securing the prisoner. Taking him from his cell, he was carried along the road leading to the scene of his crime. The plans of the lynchers were kept quiet, as no one except those who participated in it knew anything about what was to take place. The men's movements were carefully guarded.

In a statement made after the man was taken from jail Deputy Sheriff Reuben I. Smallwood said that about 2 o'clock a man appeared outside the jail and rang the bell. He said he had a prisoner. Deputy Smallwood saw he had no prisoner and refused to admit him, whereupon he left. Soon afterward a mob of about sixty men appeared before the jail with a whipping post and endeavored to batter down the door. Unsuccessful with that means, they procured a sledge and pick and managed to break a hole in the door, through which one man crawled and unlocked the door. Then five or six men entered the building and proceeded toward a room, where they encountered Warden Taylor, Deputies Smallwood and Crouse and Night Watchman Marcellus. At the point of a pistol the warden surrendered the keys. In a few moments more Davis was secured and carried out bodily. He made no resistance. His appearance outside the jail was greeted with yells. He was kicked and beaten by members of the mob and in a few minutes taken to Brick Yard hill, on the Annapolis, Baltimore and Washington railroad. Here Davis was closely questioned and again admitted he had assuaulted his victim and repeated he would have done it living or dead. As he made this assertion those who heard him called for a rope. One was procured and quickly knotted and the noose slipped over his head. By this time Davis was nearly unconscious from fright and blows which had been rained upon him. While in this condition he was hoisted up to the limb of a tree. Almost before his feet left the ground revolvers cracked and bullets crashed through Davis' body. About 100 bullets must have riddled his body.

After a few minutes the body was cut down and pieces of the rope and clothing taken by many as souvenirs. The mob then dispersed. The personnel of the mob is not known, but reliable witnesses to the occurrence state all those who composed it were young in appearance. They all wore masks, had their faces blacked and each was armed with a revolver. The negro was carried through the negro section of the city, but no one interfered. When the people appeared at windows they were warned to remain indoors if they did not want harm done them.

BLAMES LARGE SHIPPERS.

Louisiana Commission Said That They Asked Rule Be Not Adopted.

New Orleans, Dec. 21.—Dispatches from Baton Rouge say that replying to questions about the freight car shortage in this state the Louisiana railroad commission said that unless the interstate commerce commission rule the state commission has been able to formulate only small relief to shippers. The reply says that a remarkable fact connected with the investigations is that immediately preceding the hearings the largest shippers—those who made the most frequent complaints—withdrawed their demand for a car service rule, under which they might demand and receive cars, and actually appealed to the commission to pass no such rule, urging that they felt sure they would receive better treatment from the railroads if no such rule was adopted.

LOOT FOUND IN TRUNK.

Man and Woman Charged With Having Robbed a Chicago Man.

Utica, N. Y., Dec. 21.—A man who gave his name as Franz Nieselski and a woman who claimed here name to be Madeline Kreeger were arrested on a train arriving here Friday morning and held by the police on the charge of having robbed C. V. Stein of Chicago of a large quantity of jewelry and silverware. Their trunk, which was expected to contain most of the loot, was captured by Syracuse police. When searched at the station house the man was found to have $5,000 to $10,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry in his possession. There were seventeen diamonds and about thirty pearls, a magnificent solitaire ring, gold coins and many gems of various kinds. The prisoner claimed all the articles belonged to his companion, whom he said he met in the old country and with whom he had been living about a year.
